David A. Ellis, who had been a member of this Commission since the creation of the Department in 1919, resigned his position, effective as of February 1, 1926, to devote his attention to the practice of law. Both the Department and the Commonwealth were fortunate in securing a man with the experience, ability, and knowledge of public utility matters possessed by Mr. Ellis which made his services extremely valuable, and his resignation was a matter of sincere regret to the Department and a distinct loss to the Commonwealth. Lewis Goldberg was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Ellis and assumed the duties of the office on February 3, 1926. The work of the Department has been carried on during the year covered by this report with an increase in the personnel of the employees of two inspectors in the Railroad and Railway Inspection Division. As stated in our annual...
