Of the eighteen Parvans of the Mahabharata, the Anucasana forms the thirteenth, and is the third in extent, being slightly less the Vana. From beginning to end, the Anucasana is didactic in its character. The duties of men in various stations of life have been declared by Bhishma in answer to the successive questions of Yudhishtbira. Of those duties, gift has been declared to be one of the foremost. Accordingly, the merits, as understood in ancient India, of the diverse kinds of gift have been laid down most appear as quaint to Western readers. But it should always be remembered that those ideas however quaint, are still cherished by a very large section of the people of India. The very gifts are regarded by them to be meritorious, and are, accordingly, made under nearly the very same formalities. The literary...
