Government Accountability Office, 2006 OCLC Number: (OCOLOC)77118266 Subject: September 11 Terrorist Attacks, 2001 -- Health aspects. Excerpt: . . . As of late August 2006, FOH had completed screening examinations for a HHS Has Screened 33 total of 907 of the federal workers who had registered; 380 of the 907 Additional Current Federal 34 were screened since February 2006. Under its agreement with OPHEP, Workers FOH is responsible for regularly retrieving from the registration Web site requests for screening examinations for current federal workers and for 35 assigning individuals to a provider for screening. FOH officials told us that they contact the individual and the provider to inform them of the need to arrange an appointment for screening. The program relies on individuals to call the designated provider and schedule their appointment. FOH officials told us that individuals who have registered do not always contact the provider to schedule an appointment or may not keep an appointment or call to reschedule it. FOH officials said that they have attempted to contact such individuals but often received no response. We reported in our February 2006 testimony that under the July 2005 agreement FOH clinicians can refer current federal workers for follow-up care if the screening examination - which includes a medical questionnaire, clinical tests such as a chest X-ray, and a full physical 36 examination - reveals significant physical or mental health symptoms. On July 31, 2006, FOH told us that it had referred 39 current federal workers with mental health symptoms to an FOH employee assistance program 37 (EAP) for counseling; 24 to ear, nose, and throat specialists; 19 to pulmonary medicine specialists; and 1 to...
